Young Leos at Kaipara

Young Leo's got off the ground at Kaipara College with their first visit to the elderly at the Parakai Rest Home. Young Leo's is made up of Kaipara College students who are keen to be involved in community activities for the betterment of their own school environment, health and welfare and for those in the community. Students of all year groups are welcome to become part of Young Leo's. If you are interested in being part of this group, please come to the Careers Room for more information.

Gateway at Parakai

The Young Leos were not the only students at the Rest Home. Hayley Young was there completing her last day of the Gateway placement for Nursing. She is hoping to enter the Nursing programme at UNITEC in July this year.

Everyone welcome.

Ideas Need Words

Ideas Need Words was the slogan for the 2010 Readers and Writers Festival held recently at the Edge, Aotea Centre, in Auckland. English teacher Gretha Benade organised a mini bus group of our most prominent readers and writers to attend the special schools day on Thursday May 13. They listened to experienced writers talking about their craft, they were treated to readings by the authors of newly published books and they were invited to participate in question and answer sessions on all aspects affecting readers and writers of contemporary text.

Charlie Higson, author of the highly successful Young Bond series promoted his newest book and obligingly signed copies for queues of student fans.

Forty Hour Famine

The annual Forty Hour Famine for World Vision is this weekend. The objective is to raise money by making a sacrifice; by going without. Going without can involve food or technology or some other 'necessity'. Some students are doing a food famine others a technology famine.

Our student leaders have been visiting form classes and promoting the Famine. In particular they have been explaining the College tradition of supporting the Famine to new students in Year 9 by showing them the World Vision video in their reading classes.

Well over 150 sponsorship books have been given out. Sponsorship money will be collected by the Student leaders next week.

Extreme Horticulturalists

Self proclaimed extreme horticulturalists, James Mason and Shaun Gifford, reckon they have produced the best cabbage ever seen in Helensville. They certainly claim no College Horticulture student has ever achieved such perfection.

What can we say?
