Leaders Day

The College Student Leader team accompanied by Deputy Principals, Joan Ruzich and Bruce Greenbrook, attended the Halogen Foundation's Student Leader Day at the Logan Campbell Centre.

The day was MC'd by Studio Two hosts Matt & Dayna. The Leaders listened to a number of speakers address them about careers, motivation, passion, leadership and decision making. The speakers included Beatrice Faumina, Journalist Jehan Casinader, Google Nz's Dr Craig Neville-Manning, Glen Martin the inventor of the Jetpak, Psychologist Zane Scarborough and Pat Buckley of A-mped4Life.

All the speakers were interesting but three made a particular impact on our Leaders:

Jehan Casinader with his story of his passion for journalism and the impact it can have.

Pat Buckley with his points about how to make good decisions and the way choices, good and bad, shape your life. Even though it was the second time our Leaders have heard Pat, they thoroughly enjoyed his contribution.

Zane Scarborough who spoke humorously and engagingly about positive attitudes in exercising good leadership. He stressed the courage it takes, and the importance of not being afraid to do what's right

A worthwhile day with some enjoyable and thought-provoking speakers.

Free Sausages at Lunch Time

Helensville Youth Aid Officer, Lou Unkovich, joined other members of the Blue Light team in cooking 750 sausages for College students at lunchtime today.

Free snarlers to go with lunch! Great idea!

Equestrian

On Monday 28 March, seven riders competed in the Auckland Secondary Schools Ribbon Day equestrian event. Team captain, Jasmine Sawyers-Mullin, won the title of Reserve Champion on the Flat in the Novice Hack category. Kayla Erceg, Natalya Weekes, Emmaus Foster, Jessica Crack, Bridget Fisher and Tanya Merkulov also had a successful day, taking home ribbons in a variety of colours.

We also wish to congratulate Darryll Cole and her mount, Donaufurst, (photo) for their selection to represent the Waitemata-Rodney district at the New Zealand Pony Club Eventing Championships later this month. We wish her all the best tackling the three phases of dressage, show jumping and cross-country.

The Kaipara College Eventing team will be heading to the North Island Secondary Schools Equestrian Championships on Monday 16th May.
